"At PDT's summer intensive, I finally understood what all of my teachers had been saying to me for so many years. Not only did I learn the meaning of those words—'more strength, stop sitting, lengthen your legs'—but I could finally translate it to a whole different language in my body. I feel stronger and much more controlled. In only five weeks, I understood more than I had imagined possible, and this helped me improve tremendously. I really hope to go back to PDT very soon."
